Tom Hilgers asks Jae Jaquinta for all her heart(s).

This year Covenant celebrates 25 years atop Lookout Mountain. In 1964 the "Castle In The Clouds" was purchased by Covenant College which was then located in St. Louis, Missouri. Covenant, however, is not the first college to be located on the mountain. After the Civil War, the Lookout Educational Institute was established by a New Yorker named Christopher R. Robert. The land which Covenant now occupies served as a pioneer's homestead in 1865, a camp for Federal troops, and a resort hotel during the depression.

Visitors to the mountaintop have witnessed many changes over the past 25 years. The 22 acre campus originally purchased by Covenant has expanded into 70 acres. The student body has also increased from 180 to 575 students representing 40 states and 20 foreign countries. The most recent changes and additions have been the new soccer field, the new wing added to Belz Hall, and the naming of Sanderson Hall. The Tartan commemorates Covenant's twenty five years and praises God for our progress and growth. We also trust God for many more years in which faculty and students can learn together what it means to acknowledge Christ's pre-eminence in their lives each day.

"You're putting me on!" says Lisa Scholten.

Special Events

School Picnic

In September, ARA sponsored a school-wide picnic to be held on the chapel lawn. After a thunderstorm ruined that plan, the picnic was moved into the Great Hall. Even though it was no longer outside, the picnic felt just the same with paper plates, plastic eating ware, and homemade hot dogs and hamburgers. No picnic would be complete without a country band, which entertained throughout the meal. After the food was gone, the tables were pulled back and students prepared to squaredance. Although the caller could not make it, the band still played and the square dancers had a blast. The evening turned out to be a great success and everyone had an enjoyable time.

Freshmen Stacy, Jenny, Lessie, Steve, and Kelly get acquainted at the school picnic at the beginning of the year.

The band played all our favorite blue grass hits.

Kilter Night

Kilter Night was a celebration of the 50's. Everything from the James Dean poster on the wall to the chocolate milkshakes on the tables made the decor complete. September 15 was a night when the faculty and staff members made sure the hamburgers and onion rings were kept hot. Faculty members included the Rulons, the Wrights, and the Crossmans; staff members included the Brocks, the Arnetts, Barb Michal and Art Klem. Gus Diamond kept the music rolling, while the students learned the stroll and the shag. Two South Carolinians, Dana Curnow and Jonathan Scott, won the dance competition. Other contests included the hula hoop and the limbo. Scott Orthner won the guy's hula and the Belz sisters won the limbo for the girls.

Homecoming

Homecoming '89 was a time for the alumni and current students to interact and share memories of Covenant with each other. Friday, October 20, the ladies' alumni played the Lady Scots and the men's alumni played the Scots in basketball. An ice cream social followed with ice cream and sundae toppings for all. Saturday, the seniors and ARA sponsored a picnic lunch for the Covenant community. The alumni soccer match followed with the Scots beating North Georgia that afternoon. A pizza party was the special event for Saturday night's dinner.

Senior Class Masquerade Ball

Greeted at the door of the Fairyland Club by an English guard (Phil Greninger), students were ushered into a room of interesting characters, buffet of finger foods, and the music of a jazz trio. Students showed great imagination in costumes ranging from a Scottish martyr (Carolyn Davenport), and Sonny and Cher (Rob Vannoy and Lisa McGee), to pigs in a blanket (Susan Landress, Phil Biber, and Theresa Planey), and a genie (Lori Nichols). We also enjoyed an appearance by President Bush and the First Lady (Mark and Amy Burdett). Students danced to the sounds of jazz and broadway music while guests of CAB judged costumes. Jenny Belz won as a bag of trash complete with milk carton shoes. Honorable mentions went to Grandy Streets and Laurie DeBar as Count Dracula and his lady, and Damon Crumley as the joker.

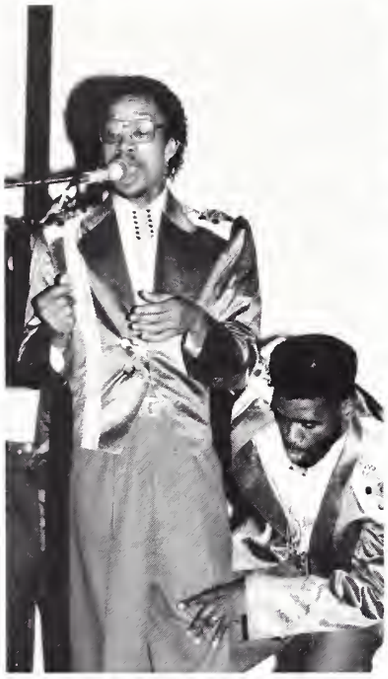
Campus Activities Board

CAB kept Covenant students busy this year with a variety of activities.

The Blizzard of Bucks hit Covenant in November. Students rushed to the Great Hall in hopes of winning big money. Kevin Breniman found himself wildly clawing flying dollars, and walked away with over a hundred of them. Scott Orthner won over fifty dollars.

From midnight to two A.M. in January, Covenant students strapped on skates and rolled the night away at Roller World in Ft. Oglethorpe. Special requests were blasted by a DJ, and skating contests were held both officially and among friends. After slipping, sliding, skidding, and many bruises, everyone felt as though they'd relived those "glorious" Junior High days.

A Valentine's Day special had everyone snapping their fingers and tapping their toes, as "Regency" sang their way into our hearts. The group performed everything from "You've Lost That Lovin' Feeling" to "Heartbreak Hotel". Stacy Baxter and several other girls were serenaded by various members of the band, who sang acapella. No one who went could forget Dr. Graham's help with "Day-O", or any of the great fun they had that evening.

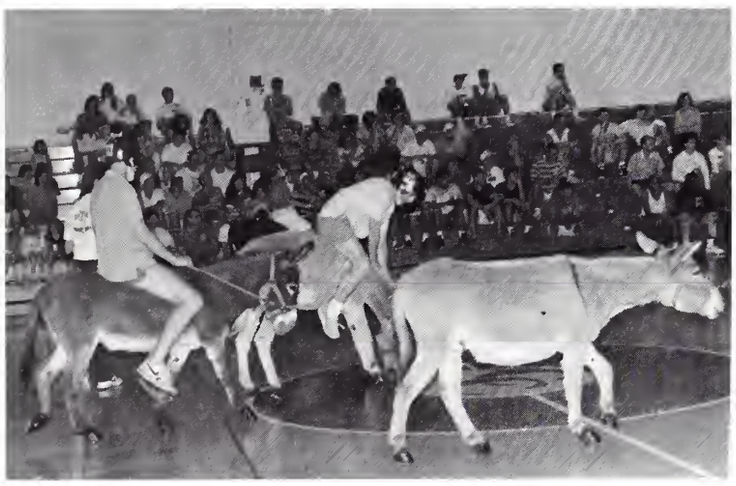


Scott Leroy, Damon Crumley, Andy Fiol, and Kim Tucker put their hot air to good use.

Students enjoy the "Blizzard of Bucks".

Bill English, Jon Roberts, Ralph Hilliard, and Cindy Jorritsma have fun roller skating.

Regency entertains Covenant.



Rob, Are you sure that you really enjoy this game?

Campus Activities Board

THEY MADE US LAUGH!

CAB continued the fun this year with 3 comedy acts. A blond chick, black guy, and bald dude boasted that they could make any student laugh. Usually they were right. And what about that ventriloquist with the dummy? Or was it the dummy with the ventriloquist? To round out the year. CAB let the school go to the mules! Many students tried to participate in donkey basketball, but sometimes those stubborn mules just wouldn't cooperate!

Dave Wambold had to laugh when questioned by Mike Bradys' love child.

"I heard that mules were stubborn, but this is ridiculous."

Madrigals

With the hall decked in traditional banners, the tables full of guests, and the platters full of food, Madrigals commenced once again in the Great Hall. Lourde and Ladye of the festivities were performed by Dr. and Mrs. Ray Dameron. For the musical entertainment, the Madrigal Singers sang selections of music from the medieval era led by Dr. Hamm, Dr. Monroe led the Madrigal Brass Ensemble. Steve Lawton sang accompanied by his wife Cathy. This year's jester was Covenant's own Greg Volpitto. Performing delightful tunes on various recorders was Tom Mosser. This was a great time of merriment and a wonderful way to herald in the Christmas season. Madrigal singers included David Dupee, Beth Ann Volkers, Clint Early. Ann Voss, Keith Jones, Gail Pink, Matt Vos, Deborah Hageman, Frank Van Pelt, Laurie Sullivan, Ed Sunder, Bethany Kaufman, Don Wayne Robertson, Debbie Walton, and Nate Wilson.

Madrigals Singers sing for their supper.

Damon Crumley keeps us warm and toasty.

Wenches enjoy a few moments of relaxation before the big feast.

James Moore, Nancy and Eric Costello, and Katrina Belz discuss the night's events.

Blair Allen directs his leading fairies — Bram Maynor as Puck and Steve Wells as Oberon.

Tara Judkins applies makeup to Ed Sunder.

A Midsummer Night's Dream

A Midsummer Night's Dream was produced and directed by Blair Allen as part of his SIP. The cast members which included one faculty member, Dr. McLelland captured our imaginations with their delightful antics. Cast members included: Reginald McLelland, Andrea Meadows, Alan Fiol, Eric Costello, James Moore, Katrina Belz, Nancy Costello, Steve Wells, Amy Diefenthaler, Brian Maynor, Jennifer Gosling, Julia Smith, Jenny Belz, Ann Thompson, Greg Marshall, Bill English, Alvaro Victoria, Ed Sunder, Lance Edling, and Jane McCallum.

A vengeful Steve Wells gives Brian Maynor magical flowers to work mischief.

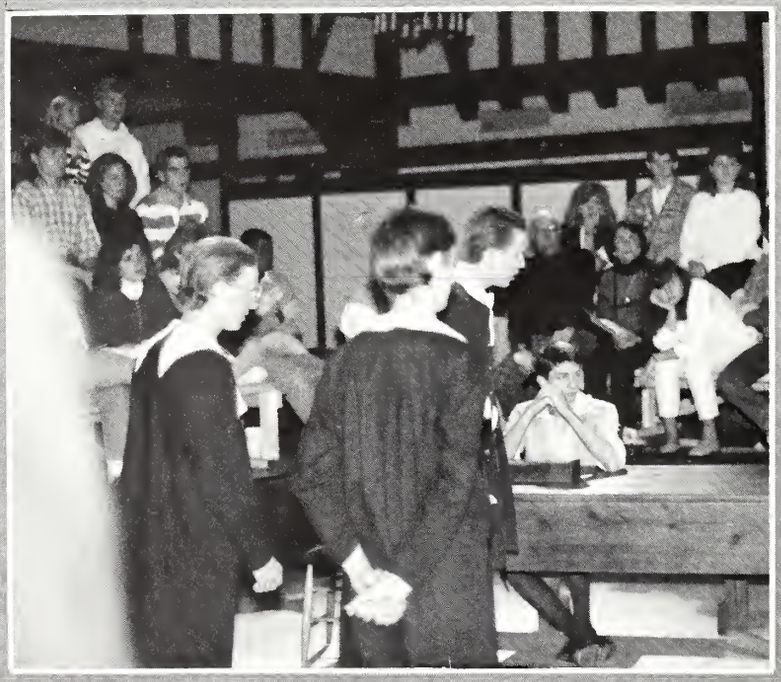
Dr. McLelland discusses nuptial arrangements with Andrea Meadows.

James Moore, Nancy Costello, Eric Costello, and Katrina Belz disagree to who is in love with whom.

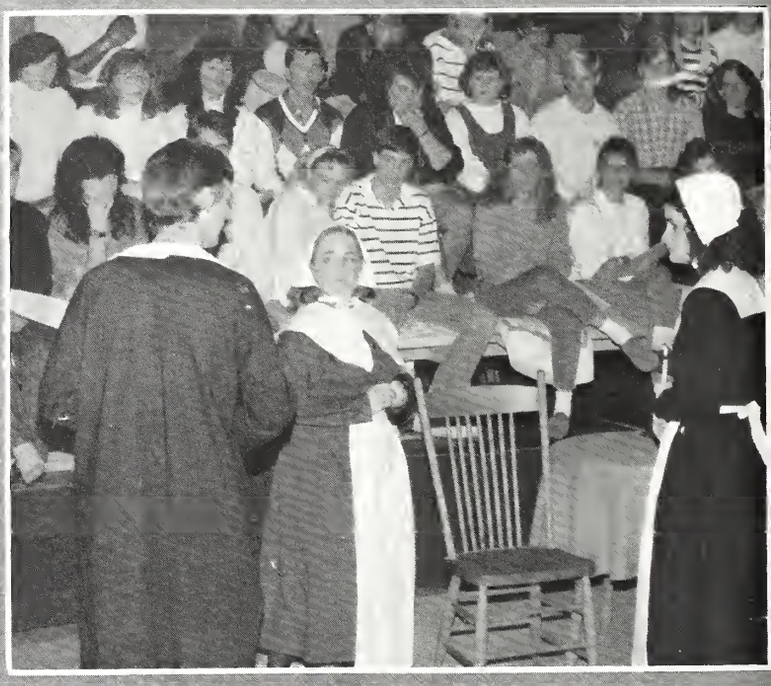
Bill English acts as a bad Thesbian for Lance Edling, Jane McCallum, Ed Sunder, Alvaro Victoria, and Greg Marshall.

The Crucible

The Crucible was a two act drama about the 17th century Salem witch trials. John Proctor, the leading role was acted by Covenant's own Bill Higgins. Directed by Kim Nelson, the unforgetable performance was sold out every night. The actors put on an excellent performance keeping the audience's attention with the thrilling plot. The audience was seated in a "round" or in bleachers surrounding the stage on four sides which gave the audience a sense of being closer to what was going on.



Eric Costello, as Jude Danforth, accuses innocent people of witchcraft while the English brothers, Bill and Tim, look on.



Tim English discusses with Jenny Barker and Mary Kate Wallace recent events in Salem, Massachusetts.

Bill Higgins and Mary Kate Wallace examine Katrina Belz for signs of the devil.

A nightmare frightens Katrina.

Never have I heard such blasphemy!

"I see it, I see it! Her spirit is coming to torment me."

The Glass Menagerie

The Glass Menagerie, by Tennessee Williams, was performed on April 5, 6, and 7. This play, revolving around a basically dysfunctional family featured Bill English as Tom, Kim Woodard as Amanda, Becca White as Laura, and Eric Costello as the Gentleman Caller. As well as playing a major role, Bill English directed the play as his SIP.

Bill English begins the play on the terrace outside his family's apartment.

Becca and Eric enjoy a chat on the sofa.

The cast takes a bow at the end of the play.

"Yes I had many gentlemen callers in my day."

"Mother you don't understand! Laura isn't like other girls."

"What are we gonna do with ourselves Laura?"

Get To Know Me!

This year the Residence Staff sponsored "Get to Know Me" evenings. Around 9:00 everyone who wasn't studying would gather in the Great Hall for food and games. Whether it was Krystals and cards or chips and piniatas, we all got to know things about each other we may have never known!

"OK, nobody breathe too hard!"

Peg Brock and Crissy Orthner cheer on their favorite jalapeno-eating champ, Scott Orthner, who set the school record.

We already knew B!

52 pick-up???

We all eagerly wait to be able to "get to know" the Warren's new baby.

Spring Banquet

This year Spring Banquet was held at Churchill's located downtown next to the Tivoli. After a delicous dinner students began dancing. The highlight of the evening was when Clay Singleton proposed to Andrea Meadows on the dance floor. She said "Yes." So that everyone could participate the dance was moved into the Great Hall.

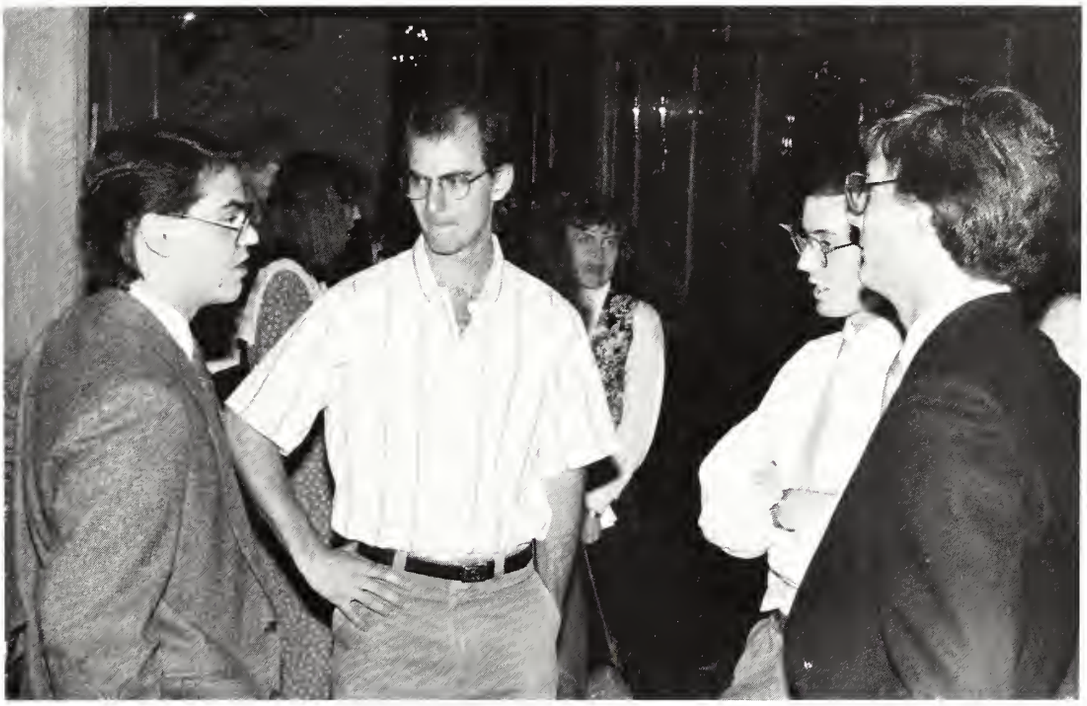
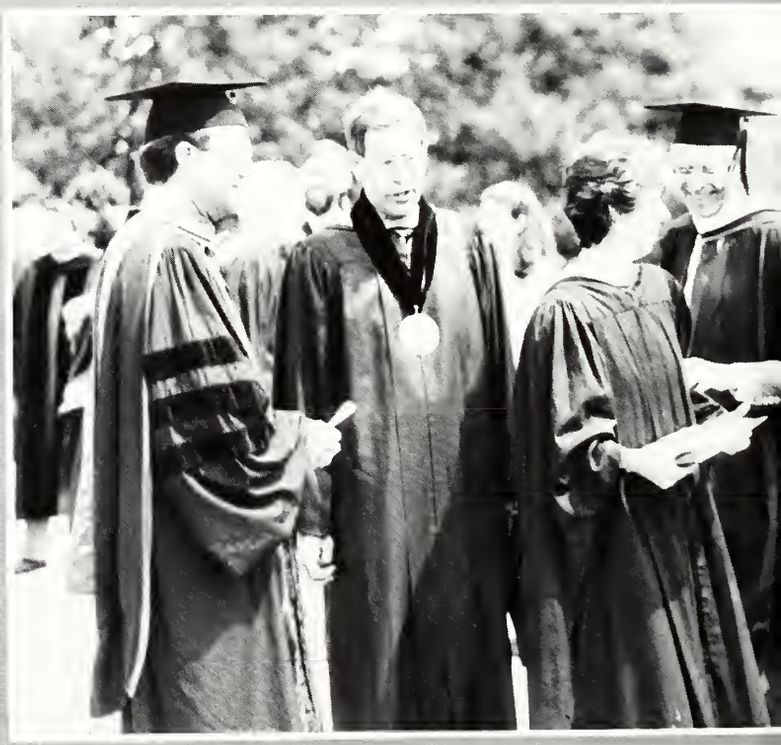
Graduation





Again this May the drones of the bagpipes were heard on Lookout Mountain as Covenant graduates reached the culmination of their college experience. Dr. C. Everett Koop, the scheduled speaker, could not be with us due to his wife's illness. Mr. Ray Dameron delivered Dr. Koop's address on the cold Saturday morning. Earlier in the week the graduates enjoyed a luncheon at the Fairyland Club given by the alumni. Family and friends joined the graduates for the Senior Banquet and the Spring Thistle concert that took place the night before graduation.

Student Senate President

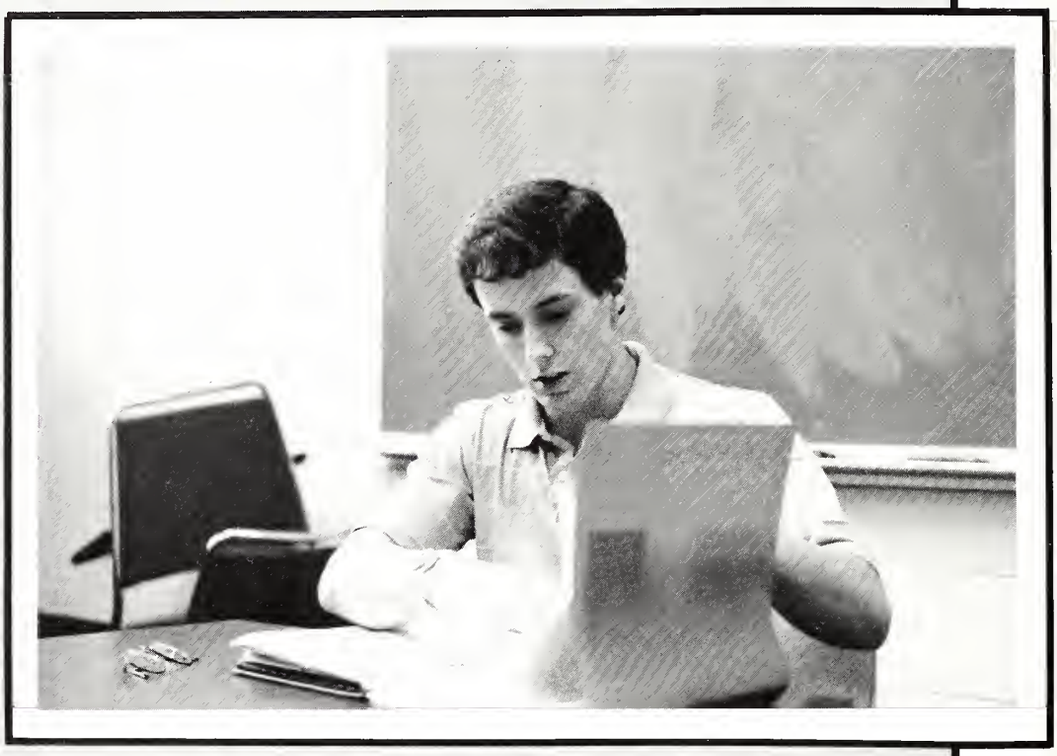
This year's Student Senate consisted of nine new members and one retruning senator. Senate was lead by President David Boozer and advised by Scott Raymond. Though the year proved to be a quiet one compared to previous years that hotly debated topics such as the dancing and chapel policies, senators were very hard at work this year reaching the goals of each particular office and of the senate as a whole.

At the August leadership conference, senate set specific goals: encouraging more leadership on campus to be evidenced through the Spring elections, becoming more visible on campus through attendance to various clubs and activities, keeping within the budget, and reducing the Tartan debt. Each goal was reached: there was approximately a 25% increase in the number of candidates for offices, the senators increased their participation, the budget was kept both semesters, and the Tartan deficit was decreased by $5,000.

An open forum in November resulted in new campus lights, the ability to cash checks on campus, and futher investigation into the phone system. Although their accomplishments are too long to list, here is a taste of the actions of each senator. John Hicks as VP responsibly and faithfully took care of the various committees that he chaired. John Roberts handled well the tasks of Secreatry by taking the minutes and sending out many, many memos. He also compiled all the year's minutes for future reference. Bill Wallace as treasurer kept us under budget and up to date in the fall, and Carolyn Davenport put in many hours in the Spring keeping communication straight as the new treasurer. Nathan Trice handled Student Chapels this year. Fond memories are the student testimony and "Get to know me" chapels. Lisa Hurdleston brought us many new, fun, and exciting activities. Who could forget Barber and Seville, Phil Keaggy, and the infamous "trash bag" scene by Regency? The class presidents did an outstanding job by providing great activities: Phil Greninger and the Masquerade Ball; Jonathan Bragdon and the lock-in; John Bohannon and the Six Flags trip and Cheri Rowe and the Cave-in.

As president I veiw the 89-90 senate as one characterized by a variety of leadership qualities, but with a common commitment to being servants. I would like to thank Scott Raymond for his leadership and advice given to both me and the Senate. I am also thankful for and indebted to the senators who made my job much easier by giving their leadership, time, and cooperation.

I charge the 90-91 senate to be faithful to your goals and to continue in defining the Senate. Create a community here. And to all students, we are all leaders and ministers to this world no matter what our individual vocations may be. Do not let loose of your responsibilities. Be faithful in learning, playing, and loving as a community of believers.



David Boozer served as this year's Student Body President.

Sports

Coaches

"He is very dedicated and very knowledgable about the game. You can tell he loves what he is doing," says senior Greg Smith about soccer coach Brian Crossman. The same can be said of all the members of Covenant's fine coaching staff.

Dedicated coaches like Rodney Miller, who led the cross-country team after his full-time job of being Student Financial Planning Director, typify the staff. Cindy Ricks returned to Covenant to coach the women's volleyball team. Brian Crossman took on the added responsibility of becoming Athletic Director, in addition to leading the Soccer Scots to another winning season. Gene Fitzgerald and Tami Smialek both did a fine job molding young basketball players into teams that will be competitive in the future.

Covenant is very blessed to have such dedicated coaches who are committed to glorifying God through athletics.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders are another example of the dedication of some people to the Scots and to the College as a whole. The cheerleaders supported the Varsity basketball team through thick and thin. Their enthusiasm carried over to the fans and together we cheered the Scots to victory.

A special thanks for all the hard work the Varsity cheerleaders put into this season.

Men's Intramural Football

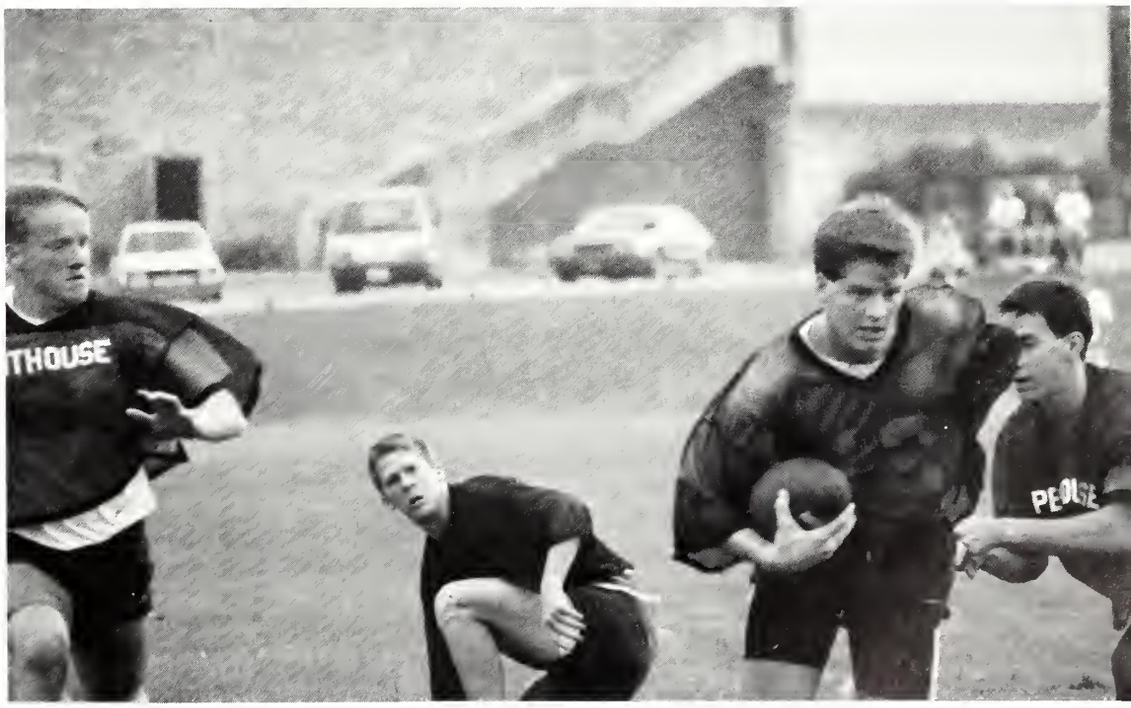
Scott Stucky races in to make the tackle.

The men of 2nd South plan their strategy.

"Seth, you block Jon Dady, go out ten yards, and I'll fake it to you. Chris, you go long."

The fans take in the action of the CIFL.



Intensity is the name of the game on the line of scrimage.

Jeff breaks loose for some extra yards.

Women's Intramural Football

The offensive line opens a hole for Kathy Swink.

Andrea Meadows sweeps to the left.

Wendy Cullen and Jennifer Lewandowski are set for action.

Pat Drayton prepares to block Cindy Jorritsma as Andrea Meadows breaks free.

The seniors and freshmen go head-to-head.

Wendy Cullen outruns Sarah Davis.

1989 Women's Intramural Champions, Senior Women's Team.
Standing: Jennifer Lewendowski, Joan Snyder, Cindy Jorritsma, Valerie Jarrard, coach Tom Hilgers, Kazuko Sarashima, coach Dan Little.
Kneeling: Marie Dye, Jae Jaquinta, Lisa Fiol, Wendy Cullen, Cheri Persenaire, and official ball holder.

Men's Intramural Soccer

Rory Ramsey and Alvaro Victoria eye the ball while John Pauley takes a seventh inning stretch.

Danny Elbert throws the ball back to his team.

Jeff and Lee collide while Byekwaso and Bart wait for more action.

Clay Singleton and Phil Greninger fight for the soccer ball, while Lance Edling and Seth George look on.

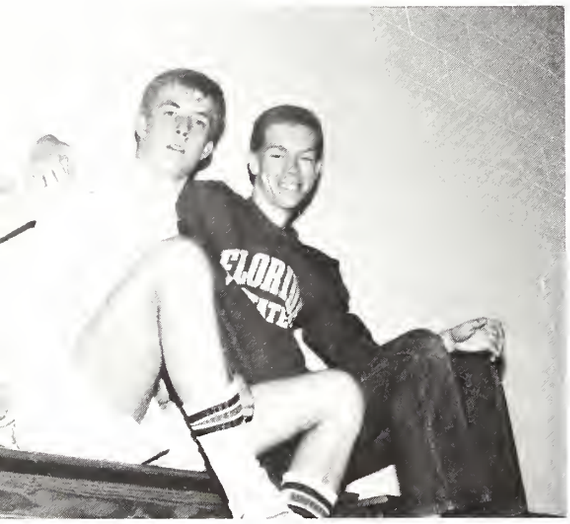
Jonathan Bragdon makes a sly pass to the side as Clay Singleton defends.

Paige Slyman dribbles the ball while Rory and Alvaro run beside him.

The Ball Busters led by Phil Greninger won this years' championship. Members were: Phil Greninger, Rob Vannoy, Phil Waites, Robby Holt, Nathan Thompson, Jon Reece, Jonathan Bragdon, and Mark Erickson.

Girls Intramural Soccer

Ed Sunder and Damon Crumley team-up together to watch the girls.



Andy Robinson and Scott Stuckey keep Jon Scott company as he keeps the score for the girls' games.

Opposing player, Peg Brock, races down the court to stop Wendy Cullen of Bad Karma.

Kathy Swink, Elizabeth York, Carolyn Cook, Jenny Barker, and Derrick Halverson intently watch the girls hustle on the court.

Jenny Groskoph defends her goal by kicking the ball towards midcourt.

"Bad Karma" had the stuff for a championship team: Wendy Cullen, Joan Snyder, Kazuko Sarashima, Rachel Lambert, Marci Brooks, Kim Nelson, Cheryl Persenaire, and the coach, Dave Dupee.

Men's Intramural Basketball

Ned Barker displays proper free throw shooting form.

Alvaro Victoria dribbles in against Sean McDaniel.

Eric Larson lays it in over Rory Ramsey.

Rory puts up a jump shot over Andrew Conrad.

Peter Lindstrom goes in for a lay-up.

John Pauley scans the defense and looks for an open man.

Rory and Aaron stare each other down as the intensity builds.

Women's Intramural Basketball

Robin DuBose drives the baseline as Dawn Brady fights off a screen from Jae Jaquinta.

Kathleen Harris drives towards the basket.

Debbi Scott draws triple coverage as she dribbles to the basket.

Kathy Swink holds on tight to the ball.

Women's basketball can sometimes become an all out war.

Jae shoots over Debbi Scott.

Intramural sports at Covenant provide the opportunity for involvement among students, staff, and even alumni. Coordinated by Greg Davick (Jr) and Rowena Upton (So) intramurals are a year-round activity, With men and women's football in early fall, men and women's basketball in the winter, and co-ed volleyball in the spring. Football had an exciting season with the senior women defeating the freshmen women team by one touchdown scored by Wendy Cullen, and the Penthouse surprising all with a win of 28-21 over the Headhunters. As indoor soccer began, Bad Karma with their experience and the Holy Cows with their talent lead the season with Bad Karma winning the final championship game. In a very intense game the Ball Busters defeated Las Chivas Rayadas in a 2-1 championship game. After a lazy Christmas vacation, everybody was ready to play basketball. Darrell's Angels played a close final game with Steele's Magnolias and stole the women's title by a small margin. Men's basketball, divided into two leagues, was characterized by stiff competition. The A league champions were Free James Brown and according to Blake James "it was a close game." All world defeated Micheal Johnson's team to take the B league championship. Co-ed volleyball meant victory for Al Dehart's team.

Congratulations, Phil!

To you and your fellow classmates we wish the best for the future. Be reminded of the Apostle Paul's words in Philippians 3:13, 14: "Forgetting what is behind and straining toward what is ahead, I press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called me heavenward in Christ Jesus."

With love always,

Mom, Dad, Ron and Sheri

Seniors, You Made Us Proud!

Phil and Mark,

It is sad to think that our college days together are coming to a close. It seems that when you finally get to know someone you find that either you don't really know them or they have to leave.

The winger, Ghetto, Sluggers, Carp, and Zombie Zoo; man those were good times. The late nights of kicking back, listening to the Steve Miller Band, choking in the clouds of dead cowboy killers disclosing our aspirations for after graduation are finished. No more battle royale reams and Whoop-A..well at least no more battle royales anyway.

It is the end of the beginning and now it is time to achieve the goals we set. We labored long, late, and hard. We carried each other when the other needed a rest. We picked each other up when one fell, dusted off his calloused rear, and pushed him on. It will be different to have our wives do it for us but who is going to complain about that. It will never be the same but we can always relive those days at my place in Colorado in the hot tub facing the Rockies. May all our endeavors be blessed by the Lord and bring glory to his name. Get out there and make me proud.

Love,
Nathan Jesse Thompson
